

Undergraduate

Purpose and Goals

The Department of Psychology offers a Bachelor of Science in Psychology. Our faculty are dedicated teachers and mentors. The degree program at PVAMU has substantial opportunities for students to choose courses adapted to their interests. In addition to traditional classes, our curriculum includes laboratory experiences and the opportunity to participate in practicum and internship experiences. One of the most exciting opportunities for undergraduate students is learning through application, working with faculty in their labs on current research to understand and sustain their interests in psychology.
