

School of Architecture, Undergraduate

Purpose and Goals

The School of Architecture offers Bachelor of Science degrees in Architecture, Construction Science, and Digital Media Arts. The School combines teaching, research and service to proactively develop the discipline of creative and innovative problem solving. Students finish undergraduate programs ready to address the needs of our society, including improving the quality of the built environment. By offering a diverse curriculum, an accomplished faculty and a comprehensive studio and classroom environment, the School of Architecture prepares students for significant roles as practitioners, developers and leaders in architecture, construction, and design.